

Chris White, CPA

Manager, Audit Learning

Chris joined 20-20 in September of 2023 as a Manager within the Audit Learning division. He began his accounting career in 2016, spending most of his career working in public accounting, with some experience with a privately-held manufacturing company as well. While in public accounting he was heavily involved in the audit training process, developing content and delivering sessions to audit team members of varying levels. He is passionate about teaching and developing professionals to help them succeed in their careers.
